You thought by now I would have been something I thought by now I could mae you see
I thought by now maybe you'd realize
It's you who's holding me back not me

Let's take a walk down memory lane dear
Can you count anytime I've admitted defeat?
It's always you calling me the failure
What the hell have you done to think you're so above me?

No better than me
No better than her
No better than him
We're all better than you

So once again I'm the poor investment
Once again, You're disappointed in me
Don't understand anything that I stand for All you care about is stealing my credit and money
Let's take a trip now, one day in my shoes
All I can offer's been put into my dreams
You only can see your own perspective
Have you ever given one thought of what it means to me?

No better than me
No better than her
No better than him
We're all better than you

You'll never understand what it means to love
You'll never get why I'll never give up
You can't comprehend what it means to pursue one's dreams
You'll never realize you tore our relationship at the seams

Better than you
Better than you
Better than you
You're no better than me
