The more I try, I can't forget
Your words keep repeating inside my head
The less I sit and just relax
The more you kill me with the facts

The more I show, the less I am
The more you say, the less you give a damn
The more I care, the more you don't
The less you try, the more I hope

Say it's not true
I won't hate you
We'll still be friends (it'll never end)
But it's all lies
Took me by surprise
The more I thought of you, the less you were

The more I believed, the more you lied
I feel so naive and defied
The more I cared, the less you were
The one I thought of as a sister

The more I show, the less I am

The more you say, the less you give a damn
The more I care, the more you don't
The less you try, the more I hope

Say it's not true
I won't hate you
We'll still be friends (it'll never end)
But it's all lies
Took me by surprise
The more I thought of you, the less you were

The more I show the less I am
Least I can say I gave a damn
The more you try to convince yourself
It all meant nothing to you now?

Say it's not true
I won't hate you

We'll still be friends (it'll never end)
But it's all lies
Took me by surprise
The more I thought of you, the less you were
