Every time I look at you I feel a shot right through my heart

Don't go now

Every time I look at you I tell myself we'll make it somehow

I don't need sentimental words

I need to know

I don't need a miracle

I don't need to catch a falling star

I don't need a miracle

I get my faith from still loving you

I need you to believe

I want you to believe

Give me time to see us through the tears that fall each time we're parted

Give me time to prove to you the future's not all broken hearted

I don't need sentimental words

I need you now

I don't need a miracle

I don't need to catch a falling star

I don't need a miracle

I get my faith from still loving you

I need you to believe

Let's cross the stars and say a prayer our love will last forever

Let's not be scared by foolish fears

I don't need a miracle

I don't need to catch a falling star

I don't need a miracle

I get my faith from still loving you

I need you to believe

I don't need a miracle

I don't need to catch a falling star
I don't need a miracle
I get my faith from still loving you
I need you to believe
I want you to believe

I need you to believe
I want you to believe
