I don't know what You saw in me
But I'm glad you believed
In spite of my condition
That Your mission was to rescue my heart
Don't understand the sacrifice
Why You gave up your life for the sake of my soul
Only heaven knows
There's a mystery that lies
Within the logic of your love
There's an undying mercy
That I'm unworthy of
If that isn't reason enough to love You
Reason enough to give You
All of my heart and soul
There'll never be a reason
If that isn't reason enough to trust You
Reason enough to give You
All of my life I know
There'll never be a reason
If that isn't reason enough
You have opened my eyes to see
The miracle You have made of me
I am your creation
So keep reminding me
There's a mercy so much stronger
Than the weaknesses in me
And there are glimpses of You power
That make it easy to believe
