"Somehow You Are"

I look out at the ocean
I don't know where it ends
I look up to the heavens
Where do they begin?
From way down here
My feet stuck on the ground
And the wonders in and around me
Can it be?

You who made the moon
You who made the stars
I cannot express the sum of who You are
You who spoke the word
Living in my heart
I cannot explain it but some how You are
Somehow You are

Peering out my window, feeling pretty small
A perfect cosmic light show
And I know You made it all
It makes it all the harder to wrap my Mind around
How You gave up heaven to be with me
Can it be?

Nothing high or low, above, below
Not anything
Can take that away, away from me
Take that away from me
