(verse 1)

This is uncalled for, this is my change
Everytime i crawl to you, you walk the other way
You can't be simple, i try to be strong
But everytime your lips move, i know somethings wrong

(chorus)

Im not screaming for you, as i pick up the pieces
And you've been defeated, im better off on my own
And i didn't need this, your love is dismissed
Im better off on my own

(verse 2)

You change the laws of love, so i've been released
You taught me so much, so now i can teach
This is for the hurtful, enjoying the pain
Just let go now, we're learning your game

(chorus)

Im not screaming for you, as i pick up the pieces
And you've been defeated, im better off on my own
And i didn't need this, your love is dismissed
Im better off on my own

(bridge)

Black hearts won't succeed, just breath, take it out
Take it out on something else
Black hearts won't succeed, just breath, take it out
Take it out on something else

(chorus)

Im not screaming for you, as i pick up the pieces
And you've been defeated, im better off on my own
And i didn't need this, your love is dismissed
Im better off on my own
