SIREN

Break me if Iâ€™m made of glass, youâ€™ve tied me down and bound my hands

For what itâ€™s worth (For what itâ€™s worth) I needed you

But itâ€™s that cycle thatâ€™s drawing the map, now

I canâ€™t figure out, where we are now, where we are now

Bend me backwards, Comb your hair

Follow your heart and not your head; itâ€™s where you
wentâ€¦

Follow your heart and not your head; itâ€™s where you
wentâ€¦

(Wrong) Follow your heart and not your head; itâ€™s
where you wentâ€¦

(You leave me screaming, why should I live through this)

Follow your heart and not your head; itâ€™s where you
wentâ€¦

(Why waste my energy, Why waste your energy)

And now if youâ€™re ready, letâ€™s get back to where things were

This siren song is singing softly it calls me back to where we were born

(It calls me) It calls me so softly, it came so quickly

But now itâ€™s so far away

Follow your heart and not your head; itâ€™s where you
wentâ€¦

Follow your heart and not your head; itâ€™s where you
wentâ€¦

(Wrong) Follow your heart and not your head; itâ€™s
where you wentâ€¦

(Bend me backwards, Comb your hair)

Follow your heart and not your head; itâ€™s where you
wentâ€¦

(Bend me backwards, Comb your hair)

Letâ€™s take this back to the take off
