I'm about to find out find out what you know
And I'll scream it out loud out loud just to show
I'll never speak of love
I'll never speak of love again
I'll never speak of love again

It haunts me from the inside out
Back and forth and upside down
With everything I wanted to say
And I'm taken aback with one phone call
You say two words and oh
That's all you need to say, need to say (x2)

If I could see through you
I'd look for your intentions
I won't know what to do
'Til I can find a way into you

It haunts me from the inside out
Back and forth and upside down
With everything I wanted to say
And I'm taken aback with one phone call
You say two words and oh
That's all you need to say, need to say (x2)

Take back the waves
I'm fine in the calm of it all
I'd rather wake up with the salt
In my mouth
Take back the waves
I'd rather wake up (x3)

I'm about to find out find out what you know

It haunts me from the inside out
Back and forth and upside down
With everything I wanted to say
And I'm taken aback with one phone call
You say two words and oh
That's all you need to say, need to say (x2)
