Just like a lesson in forever
I hope that we can stay together till the end
You know your style is just whatever
And conversations about the weathervane of friends

I'll share my dinner mints with you
The future's imminently blue
The sky will fall on our head' soon

We can grow up old together
Walking hand in hand wherever where will go
Because we're weird without each other
The things we do when we are odd and on our own

I'll share my dinner mints with you
The future's imminently blue
The sky will fall on our head' soon

I'm talked out
I'm talked out (you're so mean)
I'm talked out (and you smoke crack)
I'm talked out of love (how do i feel?)
Im talked out of love (not that great)

I felt so awkward in your room
The glow in the dark stars and moon
Ill share my dinner mints with you
The future's imminently blue
The sun will be coming up soon
