"Ten Shots"

The forest is imbued with the smell of the battle
 The spirit of war soar above
 Gaze around your land. What do you see?
 Destiny's sign says that you're not a child anymore
 The time of the wooden swords is over the time of metal is near!
 Metal has come

So you are old enough to ride your own way
 Your trusty steed is waiting for you
 Your Armour is ready to cover you
 The bow wants to be squeezed by your hands
 And targets long for the spikes of your lances

But you need to learn, learn the art of war and faithful Ratsha will guide you.
 He'll teach you to kill and not to be killed

10 shots in one minute or the sun won't rise anymore 10 shots in one minute or your people forever will be slaves

10 shots in one minute to turn you into a warrior
 10 shots in one minute or you'll meet your death

You're still so young. This is the reason why your shield and sword are weightless
 You wish to conquer the world like youthful child
 Feelings of vengeance possess your mind

Your life is a struggle. Your life is a trial
 You can die in a battle or from poisoned wine.
 You don't know whom you trust, even a friend can betray
 You can't avoid this dismal lot. Death is your fate
