This ball and chain is dragging me down to the ground
But life is that way
With nothing to light its way

It seem like everything caving in on itself
But all that was well
Is taking one step closer to hell

On the outside is big brick wall
And it's keeping me
It's keeping me whole
My destiny

This so called life
Ain't what it should be
All around I see the different paths
That i could take in my life

But there all??
Just out of my reach
I try to make my way through
But I slide my feet???

On the outside is a big brick wall
And it's keeping me
It's keeping me whole

Yeah yeah yeah

What would I have to do
To complete this fate
The seed is just an open window

But on the outside is a big brick wall
And it's keeping me
It's keeping whole
My destiny

It's keeping me whole
My destiny
