You never seem to make things better
When you only make them worse
It seems you bring out the worst in me
So make your way out the door it's open
Just make sure you close it
'Cause it's too cool for confessions

I'll keep talking
If you keep moving

Staying out to late to be with you
Is it something that I would ever do
But how can I resist that face

Staying out to late to be with you
Is it something that I would ever do
But how can I resist that face

Yeah things will never get better
And it was well rehearsed
Believed those things that you did to me
Make your way out of the lies you'll never
Because we're all so clever

And I'll keep talking
If you keep moving

Staying out to late to be with you
Is it something that I would ever do
But how can I resist that face

Staying out to late to be with you
Is it something that I would ever do
But how can I resist that face

You're making all the wrong decisions
You'd think we'd learn from them

Staying out to late to be with you
Is it something that I would ever do
But how can I resist that face

Staying out to late to be with you
Is it something that I would ever do
But how can I resist that face
