Hey kid what you lookin' so sad for
There's a whole wide world waitin' out your front door
Everybody knows it so get your ass off the floor
Everyone knows it so take a look around

Wooooooah

You can never sort it out
When you're staring out your window
It will only bring you down
If you think that only you know
You will never find your way
A constant battle everyday
You know

Hey kid don't you wonder where those years went Already twenty wasting all your time spent Lookin' for the answers but you don't know what they all meant
Everyone knows it so turn your life around

Wooooooah

You can never sort it out
When you're staring out your window
It will only bring you down
If you think that only you know
You will never find your way
A constant battle everyday
You know

Wooooooah

You can never sort it out
When you're staring out your window
It will only bring you down
If you think that only you know
You will never find your way
A constant battle everyday
You know
