So soon,
Just after you've gone
My senses sharpen
But it always takes
So damned long
Before I see how much
My eyes have darkened

Fear hangs a plane of gunsmoke
Drifting in our room
Easy to disturb
With a thought
With a whisper...
With a careless memory
With a careless memory

On the table
Signs of love life scattered...
And the walls break
We go crashing within
It's not as though
As though you really mattered to me
But being close
How could I let you go
Without some feeling
Some precious sympathy following

Fear hangs a plane of gunsmoke
Drifting in our room
Easy to disturb
With a thought
With a whisper...
With a careless memory
With a careless memory

Hey! Hey! Hey!

Easy to disturb
With a thought
With a whisper...
With a careless memory

With a careless memory

Go! Go! Go!

So I walk out into the sun
I try to start a new day
But the whole place
Just screams in my eyes
So where are you now?
Coz I don't want to see you
I think I'd die
I think I'd laugh at you
I know I'd cry
What am I supposed to do?
Follow you?

Outside the thoughts
Come flooding back now...
I tried to forget you...

Easy to disturb
With a thought...
With a whisper...
With a careless memory...
With a careless memory...
With a careless memory...
With a careless memory...

Look out! Look out! Look out!
