My heart once fell in decadence, for my all I've been
alone
Until the night brought life unto the dead, and her name was mine, unknown
She wore the awe of moonlight, her haunting air, I breathed in deep
At night we danced in the silhouette - of eternity...
...Soul fire burning...
Just kill me now!
The torch in my blood, burned in her hands
I fell to her feet, and bled for her love
She ripped out my heart, and gave it to me
I'd die in her arms, but she was never there...
Anastasia...my beautiful grave...
My heart once fell in decadence, for my all I've been
alone
Until the night brought life unto the dead, and her name was mine, alone...
