"Disappear"

Coil broken...perchance to leave a soul, perchance to sleep
When i awakened i found it, it was lying next to me
I feel it crawling, under my skin it's trying to break me
I feel no more pain, tears dried before they hit my eyes
And the one i can't save in this life, forever haunting me..
Alone, grey home, right here..a shattered man is inside looking out
Burning his reflection, yet his heart can still be found
I feel it crawling, under my skin it's trying to break me
I feel no more pain, tears dried before they hit my eyes
And the one i can't save in this life, forever haunting me..
Disappear...i can't make them disappear, they only fade
Ashes scatter, their ashes scatter, burn them all away!
I feel it crawling, under my skin it was trying to break me
I feel no more pain, tears dried before they hit my eyes
And the one i can't save in this life, forever haunting me
