"Hide Away"

Happiness, is a wave youve got to ride
To the sandy shores of an island in your mind
Where you can stay secluded
This is your hideout
Lets leave tonight
Is there room for me now?
But I didn't mean to bring it up again
I am sorry for the ways Ive let you down
Now it's best for us if we just don't make a sound
So hide away
I lost my groove, now I stutter when I speak
And I have no proof that there is reason to believe in me
I can feel what you're saying
But Im not sold yet
Because now were trying to remember
What weve tried to forget
And you didn't mean to bring it up again
I am sorry for the ways Ive let you down
Now it's best for us if we just don't make a sound
So hide away
You point me out
Because youve known me for so long
And I slow down
When the words come out all wrong
I am sorry for the ways Ive let you down
Now it's best for us if we just don't make a sound
So hide away
And stay beautiful inside your hideout
But Im not coming
So, this is goodbye now
