Fell asleep at the wheel the other night
And crashed into reality
Its a scary place to be, or so I found out
Without the faces that used to surround me
Like a pilgrim in the desert, Im diving into air
Thinking there's water but nothings there
Because I thought you were an ocean
But this view from where I stand
Has me leaving with a mouth full of sand
I didn't sleep well again the other night
Afraid to close my eyes and dream
I hate the fact that I feel like I need anything
To feel complete
To feel like me
Like a pilgrim in the desert, Im diving into air
Thinking there's water but nothings there
Because I thought you were an ocean
But this view from where I stand
Has me leaving with a mouth full of sand
I didn't find it in religion
But I found it in love
Ill read the terms of agreement later
Just sign me up
Like a pilgrim in the desert
