So they dropped the bomb on me
Last night around eleven-thirty
Im still burning with intent
The heat makes this feel so different
I woke to find you gone
I traded the best of you for fun
Im still blazing with intent
The smoke makes you look so different
I believed your earnest resolve
I thought you'd take these better parts of me
But now it's clear who you are
Youre a stranger to life you lead
Now you're revealed
Go through the motions play the part
Stay hidden somewhere in the dark
Recite the lines that got you here
Right as rain but fake like your tears
I believed your earnest resolve
I thought you'd take these better parts of me
But now it's clear who you are
Youre a stranger to life you lead
Now you're revealed
