Nothing more i've wanted, i was so naive
Nothing more to pray for, now i have belief
A curse of silence, i couldn't undo
My only reason to live, it died with you...
With you in my heart, there's no reason to need
But it's feeling more like hell inside of me
You took my everything, you left me bare
Except for disillusion, i never felt so scared..
...you destroy me...
If i knew the right words to kill the pain
I'd say them forever and i'd say them again
You took my everything, you left me bare
Except for disillusion, i never felt so scared..
...you destroy me...
