In this world it's hard, you know, lovers come and lovers go
People never seem to hold on to what they've got Some, they never stay together you and I will be no better
We can make it last forever, we can keep this love alive

Through the storm, through the tears
You and I, I know we can survive
To the day through the night
If we try we can keep it alive, we can keep it alive

I know sometimes it's been so tough, we've been so close to giving up
But our love's so strong and we keep holding on, yeah, to what we got
It's easier to walk away, it takes a lot of love to stay We've got all the love it takes, we know there's a brighter day

Through the storm, through the tears

We just gotta be strong, we just gotta be strong
We just gotta be strong together
We just gotta hold on, we just gotta hold on We just gotta hold on and go through the storm

Through the storm, through the tears
Through the storm, through the tears
