"Center Of A Kiss"

So much is in the center of a kiss
It doesn't matter whether it exists
An optimistic wish is the sentimental basis of the kiss

A piece of a sentimental wish
Sinks the calm - this hormonal driven bliss
And incandescent eyes stare at my grieving little smile

But we go
And I know
The treading in the water
I'll be drowning in the water

We say goodbye

I have yet to find that special kiss
Where I will build up the sentimental wish
And grinning little eyes will meet a gazing simple smile
But we go
And I know
The treading in the water

We say goodbye
