"Escaping the Transience"

I can't foresee my scales
I refuse to believe such tales
I'm seeing nothing at all
Inside the crystal ball
Each day is a dose of death
And I pray for one more breath
I want to leave this place
While wearing this same face

I fear it
It's not clear but
We all fear the unknown
We can't escape the transience
Just put it all to rest
I fear it
It's not clear
But we can't escape the transience
And time will put us all to rest

Do you think time could undo
The legacy we've left with you?
Or would the stars shine true
To testify this short-lived youth?
Most people lack resolve
To build a life just to watch it fall
Like the sand inside the glass
It hits the bottom so damn fast

I fear it
It's not clear but
We all fear the unknown
We can't escape the transience
Just put it all to rest
I fear it
It's not clear
But we can't escape the transience
And time will put us all to rest

But I don't want to watch us wilt
And see the fall of all we've built

I fear it
It's not clear but
We all fear the unknown
We can't escape the transience
Just put it all to rest
I fear it
It's not clear
But we can't escape the transience
And time will put us all to rest
