"Power To Control"

Purpose is so crystal clear, the predictions exact
Patience is boundless, the strike is so bold and direct

The conscience is for the losers, and no mercy for the weak
You're a man and not a sneak

Building the tower of bones
You protect your business
Turning the air into gold
Don't fear to deliver first strike
In the race for profit
Don't fear to spit on them all
Use your power to control

Actions are rapid, your influence spreads like a storm
Ages go by but the hunting takes the modern form

The city is a jungle where the stronger will survive
That's the rule of real life

Building the tower of bones
You protect your business
Turning the air into gold
Don't fear to deliver first strike
In the race for profit
Don't fear to spit on them all
Use your power to control

Building the tower of bones
You protect your business
Turning the air into gold
Don't fear to deliver first strike
In the race for profit
Don't fear to spit on them all
Use your power to control!
