"The New Love Song"

Elegant, but soft. Feminine as you ought.
One with earth and one with God, Won't you please forgive me?

As the daylight sinks, as I fail to stop and think, once I curse the things I've done. wont you please forgive me?
Won't you please forgive me?

Young bride take my name. Burn the questions burn the shame. You don't have to live by them, Won't you please forget them?
Won't you please forget them?
Won't you please forget them?
Won't you please forget them?
Sleep well when the night time falls. Wait til morning when I call. Don't believe the bad you saw. Won't you please forget them?

Tenderness and grace, how you've come to change
this place, however dangerous or safe, I'll find within you.
I'll find within you.
I'll find within you.
I'll find within you.
I'll find within you.
I'll find within you.
