

Ark, The "I Pathologize"

Visit "I Pathologize" on MotoLyrics.com

Walk with me slowly, let in some air
I know we both have been lonely and I wasn't there But here's a packet of peanuts and here's a pint of beer,
We both run around in circles when there's nothing to fear

And if I ever did you any wrong
There's a two-headed reason why this can go on
But it's true that I've been away too long
So - I pathologize, I pathologize, I pathologize

Don't know much about love and roses
But I know we got compatible neuroses
Know there's a way to shed your skin
But when we don't know where it ends how should we dare to begin?

If I ever did you any wrong
There's a two-headed reason why this can go on
But it's true that I've been away too long
So - I pathologize, I pathologize, I pathologize

If I ever did you any wrong
There's a two-headed reason why this can go on
But it's true that I've been away too long
So - I pathologize, I pathologize, I pathologize

If I ever did you any wrong
There's a two-headed reason why this can go on
And it's true that I've been away too long
There's a two-headed reason why I sing this song
And if the key's too high for you to sing along
Then - I pathologize, I pathologize, I pathologize
I pathologize, I pathologize, I pathologize

Visit Ark, The page on MotoLyrics.com, to get more lyrics and videos.