With souls that burned with fire
And an eagerness to stay up late
We set out to win the hearts
Of the outlandish and irate

In our coats of splendid colours
We went from town to town
Leaving young hearts filled with promise
And the venues turned up side down

Now we're standing here together
And it's time for the encore
So let's not keep them waiting anymore

Let all the trumpets blow
Give them a hell of a show
Rip it up and let it go
The apocalypse is over
Let the lights explode
Sing the song we all know
Shout it out a little bit more
The apocalypse is over

With the power of zeal and pancake
We rose to rugged fame
In the world of no tomorrow
Everybody knew our name

Well, I don't know where we were headed
But I know that's where we are now
And that our holy mission ended
On the way somewhere, somehow

Now we're standing here together
And the crowd calls out for more
So let's not keep them waiting anymore

Let all the trumpets blow
Give them a hell of a show
Rip it up and let it go
The apocalypse is over

Let the lights explode
Sing the song we all know
Shout it out a little bit more
The apocalypse is over

Look at us now
I think that we made it somehow
It's time to move on
The battle is won
The flood is postponed

Let all the trumpets blow
Make it a hell of a show
Rip it up and let it go!
The apocalypse is over
Now it is all up to you
