I could punch your face
When you say im good
I could dress in lace and paint my face
And go out on a cruise
In the neighbourhood

Become a prostitute
Or become a priest
I could fuck anyone
Every girl, every boy
At least one in every town
Thats to say the least
- Wouldnt that be radical?
- Wouldnt that be radical?

(But)

The most radical thing to do
Is to love someone who loves you
Even when the world is seemingly
Telling you not to
I dont know whats wrong or right
But i know whats worth a fight
The most radical thing is to do what
Your heart tells you to
Cause i do assure
You that i do adore you

I could cut myself
And take it to the streets
I could dress like a freak
Leave my blankets in a heap.
Stop brushing my teeth for ninety weeks
Throw down the government
Become the president
I could try every drug
Or give everyone a hug
Set every prisoner free
And claim im Jesus son

- Wouldnt that be radical?

- Yes all of that would be radical all right

But the most radical thing to do
Is to love someone who loves you
Even when the world is seemingly
Telling you not to
I dont know whats wrong or right
But i know whats worth a fight
The most radical thing is to do what
Your heart tells you to
Cause i do assure
You that i do adore you

I wish that i could be that radical
That radical

I wish that i could be that radical
That radical
