Hail be man of action
A man who can tell right from wrong
And he brings a brand new song
He makes a joyful sound
Blessed is he who gets around

Hail be laughing mankind
And the ones who dare to cry loud too
And he knows just what to do
And he knows nothing at all
Blessed is he who's strong when small

Only sinisters say life is not in my hand
Who said we can't make all of them understand?
Speak it out, speak out loud
'Cause you know what you want
What you want is real
Don't let anyone put labels on your head
Don't let anyone say that's already said
We are young and at last we all know what we want
What we want is Steel..

Freedom is obeying
The dictates of your own red genes
Freedom is to trust
That you're doing what you must
According to your lust

Hail be laughing mankind
And the ones who dare to cry loud too
And he knows just what to do
And he knows nothing at all
Blessed is she who's strong when small

Only sinisters say life is not in my hand
Who said we can't make all of them understand
Speak it out, speak out loud
'Cause you know what you want
What you want is real
Don't let anyone put labels on your head

Don't let anyone say that's already said
We are young and at last we all know what we want
What we want is
Steel.. steel..

Oh, freedom is obeying
Oh, the dictates of your own red genes
Freedom is to trust
That you're doing what you must
According to your lust, lust, lust

Hail be man of action
Oh a man who can tell right from wrong
And he brings a brand new song
He makes a joyful sound
Blessed is she who gets around
Blessed is she who's strong when small
Blessed is she who gets around
Don't you know we want steel..
Steel.. steel.. steel..
