Come clean
Why are you awake while I'm asleep
Does the guilt eat away at your sensibilities
Your little secret will find no shelter here
With me

Are you slowly losing your mind
Or have you
Lost control
You've lost control
You've lost ability to know your wrong from right
You've lost control
Lost control
You've lost control

Come clean
Why are you awake while I'm asleep
The space between the folds within the sheets
Are valleys you won't cross to get to me
I fear

That you are slowly losing your mind
Or have you
Lost control
You've lost control

You've lost ability to know your wrong from right
You've lost control
Lost control
You've lost control

You think I don't know but I know your little secret
You think I don't know but I know your little secret
Your secret, your secret
Secret

Lost control
You've lost control
You've lost ability to know your wrong from right
You've lost control
Lost control
You've lost control

Control

Come clean

Why are you awake while I'm asleep

Does the guilt eat away at your sensibilities

Your little secret will find no shelter here

With me
