Alright I ain't stung
But I'm impressed on (the) progress that we had Still I seize the truth
On what's been said
In the end
That's alright
We'll be fine
There ain't no loss in losin' what you got
Won't be left
Believing
Never lose the things you'd never want
The only part I've felt or ever thought
Is the end

Dangling is your curse
The only time we met I found you gone
It's the pride of the losin'
The blind cries are frightening
All you need ever know you left it first
In the beginning
As evil as you are, you've been alive one
Cause even as you are, you're left undone
Faithless until the end, see you around some
Greatest faith you have is in someone
It's the only sign I fear I've never hung

Faded love steps in Pretending like it's all it's ever been
Sometimes it hurts you
Often times it frightened you
All you need ever know you left it first
In the beginning as you are, you've been alive one
Cause even as you are you're left undone
Faithless 'til the end, see you around some
The greatest faith you have is in someone
The only part I felt, or ever thought dear
The only thing that I admit to fear
Greatest faith you have is everlasting
Greatest faith you have is in someone
'Cause even as you are, you're left undone
But the greatest faith you'll have is in someone
