You were only kidding and I didn't listen.
I only picked up what I thought I was missin'.
And I don't know you all too well.
When you're acting I can't tell.
And I could never take a hint anyway.
So laugh with me or fight with me and then just tell me.
There's a truce and a use and a war that can't be won.
Things in the way and I just keep tripping over.
My parallel bent but I still can't get any closer.
Humor makes it all seem nice.
And I'm a worthless sacrifice.
Fly away again or stand your ground
So laugh with me or fight with me and then just tell me.
There's a truce and a use and a war that can't be won.
And now you can hate me night and day but I'd say that's okay.
With me the jokes never end until we smile from dying
once again
So laugh with me or fight with me and then just tell me.
There's a truce and a use and a war that can't be-
Laugh with me or fight with me and then just kill me.
