You!
Think this world we all live in
Is a game!
Well think again! Think again!
Your ignorance rarely sympathizes with the truth
It's just a never ending cycle of yes or no for you

Fight and question what is your reality
(Do not believe their new lies)
Move beyond disease, hunger, and greed
(Look past all the problems)
Impossibility lies within your own mind
(Break down the barriers of hate)
Bombardment of falsities
(Another victim lost in vain)

Take a walk down this street and look around
Cheers to another day, calm and peaceful
But wait, now just turn the corner
What springs upon you with no warning? Disorder.

You're trapped!
In your own words!
