Should mention, you're not the only one
Who betrayed me, been through this on and on
What happened to all the promises you made
I guess the promises you made have all just fade

It all happened so fast
I did not realize
I thought it would last
What a surprise
It all happened so fast

Like you said, you never was there
But even if it's my fault, I don't care
What happened to the things you said
Now they're stuck in my head

It all happened so fast
I did not realize
I thought it would last
What a surprise
It all happened so fast

No more tears for me to cry
Don't wanna keep wonder why
'Cause you're not worth it

It all happened so fast
I did not realize
I thought it would last
What a surprise
It all happened so fast

So fast, would not last
So fast, so fast, so fast
