I didn't say I love you when I had the chance
Now I lie here bleeding
I'm in an awful mess
I know it's not the right time to become a religious man
But I've got that nasty feeling that it's my only chance

There is no pain
no sign of life
I took in vain my only life
I can't explain where the time went
Now I'm breathing my final breath

I fell awake while sleeping forgot to remember how I gave my best at taking had everything but more
The pavement's getting cold now
You're the best thing in my life
I really should have told you, but I didn't have the time

There is no pain

no sign of life
I took in vain my only life
I can't explain where the time went
Now I'm breathing my final breath

I didn't say I love you when I had the chance
Now I lie here bleeding
I'm in an awful mess
I know it's not the right time to become a religious man
But I've got that nasty feeling that it's my only chance

There is no pain
no sign of life
I took in vain my only life
I can't explain where the time went
Now I'm breathing my final breath

There goes my last breath
