Put your precious gifts away
You can trust me it's okay
Return those treasures to their land
I like you the most with empty hands

None of these will change my mind
What's done is done you can't rewind
There's no need to make amends
I'm the one who understands

What is winter without a fall
Look back in time
It says it all
What's a heart without a soul
It says it all

What is water without a fall
Try to see it as a whole
Read my writings on your wall
It says it all

The people in the sky ask me 'why?' all the time
The truth is I'm not sure I can't really define
I wish that I knew what is pushing me forward
Driving me senseless it's becoming awkward

That same old story,
That reoccurring dream
Everything you've seen
Nothing in between

You pull me out, into the world
You clear the clouds where reality curls
We go together
Like moods and weather

....It says it all

What is winter without a fall
Look back in time
It says it all
What's a heart without a soul

It says it all
What is water without a fall
Try to see it as a whole
Read my writings on your wall
It says it all
