Is it you
Calling my name?
Where are you?
I am blinded by the flames.

All these years we've been together
A lifetime of vivid memories
I hoped that it would last forever
It had become a part of me

Until today
I wished that I could say

One of the safest places
With all the familiar faces. I
Would like to stay a while,
If you don't mind.

I'm cold and need a touch
A friendly smile and such...
Such a thing
Is what I need right now
One of the safest places
With all the familiar faces. I
Would like to stay a while,
If you don't mind.

I'm cold and need a touch
A friendly smile and such...
Such a thing...is what I need right now

Did it become contagious?
What made you so spontaneous,
Relentless on top of shameless
Do you want me to go on?

I've seen this before
It was something I could not restore
So don't you try walking
Walking through this door.
