We've Been Strangers - LYRICS

All lyrics by David Johnson

Daylight Outro

We've been strangers
We've succumb to the shadows and the shade
We've shied from danger
And now we're met with all that we've misplaced

But the rays of the sun
Wash across my face

I have come undone
This haze is broken by the daylight
And I can hear the hurt here in your cries
But I can see the hope stirring in your eyes
When I open mine so I can see

The rays of the sun
Wash across my face
And I dare not depart this place
Unchanged
