I, I, I can make your heart stop
But you, you, you won't come around
So come here honey
Let me show you something I put down
And I hope you hear me now 'cause

Every time I fall again
Baby you want, you want, you want
And then you get up, get up, get up
And now I'm down

What's the point of having all these feelings
If you don't want anything from me
Why does it hurt when I hear your name
Why can't you just feel the same?
Say you'll love me, yeah

Can, can, can you hear the focus
I call out but you don't hear a sound
So come here honey
Let me show you a little something I put down
So can you hear me now 'cause

Every time I fall again
Baby you want, you want, you want
And then you get up, get up, get up
And now I'm down

What's the point of having all these feelings
If you don't want anything from me
Why does it hurt when I hear your name
Why can't you just feel the same?
Say you'll love me, yeah

Why couldn't you just feel the same
I'm left inside this mess you made
I should have known it all along
Everything was always wrong
Why does it hurt when I hear your name?

What's the point of having all these feelings
If you don't want anything from me

Why does it hurt when I hear your name
Why can't you just feel the same?
Say you'll love me, yeah
