Slowly take these steps with me,
Well fake our deaths and take the knife that tore our flesh and brazed our beating hearts.
Well find it's not so hard to hide the blood it fades with time.
But now I sit in the silence and wait while the sound
deafens me.
But your major chord still rings clearly.
The silence seems so deafening.
Now I sit in the silence and wait while the sound
deafens me.
But your major chord still rings clearly.
The silence seems so deafening.
Youve turned over stones in search for love you're not alone.
Uncover your heart and I'll she'd light on all the darkness in your mind.in your mind.
The light displays the fights ok.
Provide the rain and wash the past away.
Like the sirens drew the sailors to their deaths with their beautiful song you drew me to a place that feels so good and I'm grateful to die to live again (yeah) But now I feel my faiths exposed; my love, my sight, were shared with hopes to make the cold pass as we start.
Well find it's not so hard to trust in love again.
Now I sit in the silence and wait while the sound deafens me. But your major chord still rings clearly.
The silence seems so deafening. Now I sit in the silence and wait while the sound deafens me.
But your major chord still rings clearly.
The silence seems so deafening.
Youve turned over stones in search for love you're not
alone.
Uncover your heart and I will prove you're not alone.
