I read today
A letter you gave me
Three months back
It was so sweet
It was so true
Full of heart

I looked again
To some of our pictures
Taken just this past November
It was so sweet
It was so real

CHORUS:
What happened now?
Why are we fading out?
Should we look back
To what we might forgot?
Are we still standing here
Here on the same ground
Where we stood before
Or have we lost it?

I lay in bed
And I remembered
How every night
Felt so warm
With your both arms
Wrapped upon me

I told myself
Soon we'll get better
But nothing here
Seems to work anymore
Anymore
