Once upon a time
I would've given you the world
It wasn't good enough for you
So you turned and walked away, yeah
Nothing that I wouldn't do to make you smile
Knowing all along all the stupid games you play, yeah
I had enough of all your games.
I am so sick of chasing you.
I've finally come to realize the simple fact that we are through.
I jumped through all your hoops
I took it all in stride.
You never cut me any slack
My heart is what I offered, and that's exactly what you took.
But now it's time I took it back
I've had enough of all your games.
I am so sick of chasing you.
I've finally come to realize the simple fact that we are through. We are through.
I've had enough of all your games.
I am so sick of chasing you.
I've finally come to realize the simple fact that we are through. We are through.
