The fear of the Lord is the beginning of wisdom
The strength you give me when I call Your Name
You know I'm a liar, so what's keeping You here?
I wish I could know, the plans You have for us

They try to trip me up, with the oldest trick in the book

I will stand firm, I will never back down

From a strength beyond our own,
We fight against the unseen
We're taking back what's ours,
Are you prepared?

Are you prepared to stand tonight>
And claim the victory that was earned for us!
Are you prepared to die for this?
To see your brothers claimed!

I claim this victory, we claim your victory

The fear of the Lord is the beginning of wisdom
The strength you give me when I call Your Name
You know I'm a liar, so what's keeping You here?
I wish I could know, the love You have for us

Make me holy, to do Your work
Give me the strength to do what I know is right,
Give me the strength do keep up the fight
Make me holy
Make me holy
