Im so fed up with what I see
People around me arent living for anything
Distracted, destructive
I wont stay quiet while things get worse

I mean every word that I say
This world is always against me but Im staying the same
If you dont stand up for whats in your heart,
Time will see the end of us
But take heart

When your life begins to bring you down
Youll always find the will to stand
Shoulder to shoulder we will stand together
Dont waste a moment of the time we have

Give me the power to take up my cross
I need Your strength to shine a light to the lost
And when the weight of the world begins to crush me
Fill me with righteous anger

Come and fill me up with righteous anger
I need a hand when my guilt gets me down

In this world you will have trouble
But I have overcome this

I have overcome this world

Behold; I am with you always, until the end of the age
