Grant me the entirety of your existence
The crowning of this consequence has ceased Grant forth the truth will piece together my existence
Once again I stand behind your shoulders Be brave my dear, your quarry is near Dammed up by unjust arrest
The things he's planned inflict he's damned not I who exhumes the best
The fates conspire admitting I was a liar, regardless of what devout freedoms I lent

Grant me piece today (grant me your piece today, grant us piece)

The shit in your life I will end.
No pill nor drug will grant you my love
At midnight you called, with passion you balled.
Slicing ligament and wishing to die.
The fates conspire admitting I was a liar, regardless of what devout freedoms lent
