I'm in chains you're in chains too I wear uniforms, you wear uniforms too Am a prisoner, you're a prisoner too Mr Jailer

I have fears you have fear too I will die, you sef go die too Life is beautiful don't you think so too Mr Jailer

I'm talking to you jailer Stop calling me a prisoner Let he who is without sin- Be the first to cast the stone Mr Jailer

You suppress all my strategy You oppress every part of me What you don't know, you're a victim too Mr Jailer

You don't care about my point of view If I die another will work for you So you treat me like a modern slave Mr Jailer

You don't care about my point of view If I die another will work for you So you treat me like a modern slave Mr Jailer

If you walking in a market place Don't throw stones Even if you do you just might hit One of your own Life is not about your policies All the time So you better rearrange your Philosophies and be good to your fellow man jailer

I hear my baby say I wan be president I wan chop money From my government What he don't know Be say Mr Jailer
