Drowsy eyes, waves are crashing on the shore
No longer make out any form, drift to sleep.
Beneath cool sheets, as when i was a boy
Waves rolling on the shore, in distant sound.

Dark in heaven baby that's for sure.
Dark in heaven baby that's for sure.

Settling voice, endless depth in my ears.
Tongue that sears, hopes and fears.
The voice is infinite
Starlit seas, midnight breeze beneath cold sheets
The surf sighs in sympathy
Drift to sleep.

Dark in heaven baby that's for sure
Dark in heaven baby that's for sure

Dark swells the sea
Time is ripping at the seams
Symphonic rain, symphonic pain.
Symphony, outside is black in the projects wanted back.
Standing at the end of time in ecstasy
Ecstasy.
