I'm waiting for a sign of life
When loneliness is not a phase
You fooled me in life and death,
Now this is where it all begins.

No reality in this moment
No sign of gesture in your face Sweet gravity pulls me under Gleam of hope was in my chest.

I've came to rest my peace in you're weakness
I'm once again upon your grave,
Those traces lead me in to your sickness,
Intense days shown around again.

An insight movement from the caverns
Impassive way for me to show you what it takes.
We are surrounded by this calamity
To walk the final traces till the end

Illustrate my feeling deep with the meaning the rage of your power was near to burst you push me around again

I've went through all your open doors
In a wait of your arrival
Mauve colours are glooming in my eyes
As I prepare to die
And I was there before you
You are'nt the one
All of my hopes to get there
Turned to dust.

Still in foraging it might never end as I'm passing through your way please take it away...
send me away
