Here...here I am again
And I'm starin at these same four walls
Alone again
And now all the colors blend
And I'm growing up and i've become this empty page
Hold on it's tragic stumblin through all this static

I just wanna talk to you my broken heart just has no use
I, I guess promises are better left unsaid...yeah
Everytime you try to tell me
You say the words that i'm the only
But i'm the one whose crawlin on the ground
When you say love makes the world go round

My love (my love) look at what you've done to me
For someone who has felt so strong it's amazing i'm completely gone
Hold on it's tragic stumblin through all this static

I just wanna talk to you my broken heart just has no use
I, I guess promises are better left unsaid yeah
Everytime you try to tell me
You say the words that I'm the only
But i'm the one whose crawlin on the ground
When you say love makes the world go round

That's the kind of love you give me
I'd rather be alone, believe me
Is that the way you want to treat me
I'd rather walk away

I just wanna talk to you my broken heart just has no use
I, I guess promises are better left unsaid, yeah
And everytime you try to tell me
You say the words that i'm the only
But I'm the one whose crawlin on the ground
When you say love makes the world go round
Yeah you say love makes the world goes round

Everytime you try to tell me
I don't care you're not the only

Don't you know I'm comin back around
Cause I say love makes the world go round,yeah
Cause I say love makes the world go round
