I stopped writing in my diary
I got so sick of me
I ripped out the pages
And set myself free
I stopped waiting for a phone call
Cause I finally see
I'm wasting my time
It stopped raining
Still I went out and
Started breathing again
It felt good but it felt weird
Cause I know in the end
All the king's horses
And all the king's men
Can't fix up this time

What was I thinking
Letting you be the reason
I open my eyes in the morning
And closed them at night
Must've been dreaming
While I was out believing
Every love lie you said
When you said I was yours
Well, I'm not that girl
I'm not that girl anymore

There will be times when I miss you
I'm not gonna lie
There will be little reminders
That mess with my mind
So, I wrote on the mirror
A lip stick goodbye
Every tear dries

What was I thinking
Letting you be the reason
I open my eyes in the morning
And closed them at night
Must've been dreaming
While I was out believing

Every love lie you said
When you said I was yours
Well, I'm not that girl
I'm not that girl anymore

That girl is gone
She's not coming back
Had to move on
And I'm scared of it
Cause I like me better without you
Got a post card from Boston
I ripped it up, thought it would hurt
But it wasn't so tough

What was I thinking
Letting you be the reason
I open my eyes in the morning
And closed them at night (closed them at night)
While I was out believing
Every love lie that you said
When you said I was yours
Well, I'm not that girl
I'm not that girl anymore
No, I'm not that girl
I'm not that girl anymore
